The Winstone Family Tree

Origins of the name

The name “Winstone” originates from the Village of the same name in this case in the county of Gloucestershire, although there are other villages of that name in other counties. The village itself where the family originated is a parish in the hundred of Bisley, six miles North West of Cirencester, and nine miles from Cheltenham. The village is situated near the high road between Cirencester and Gloucester, under the Cotswold Hills. The soil is stone brash upon a subsoil of stiff clay. Stapleton and Fishponds where the family first appear is about thirty miles from Winstone, on the outskirts of Bristol which would have attracted artisans from all over the area.

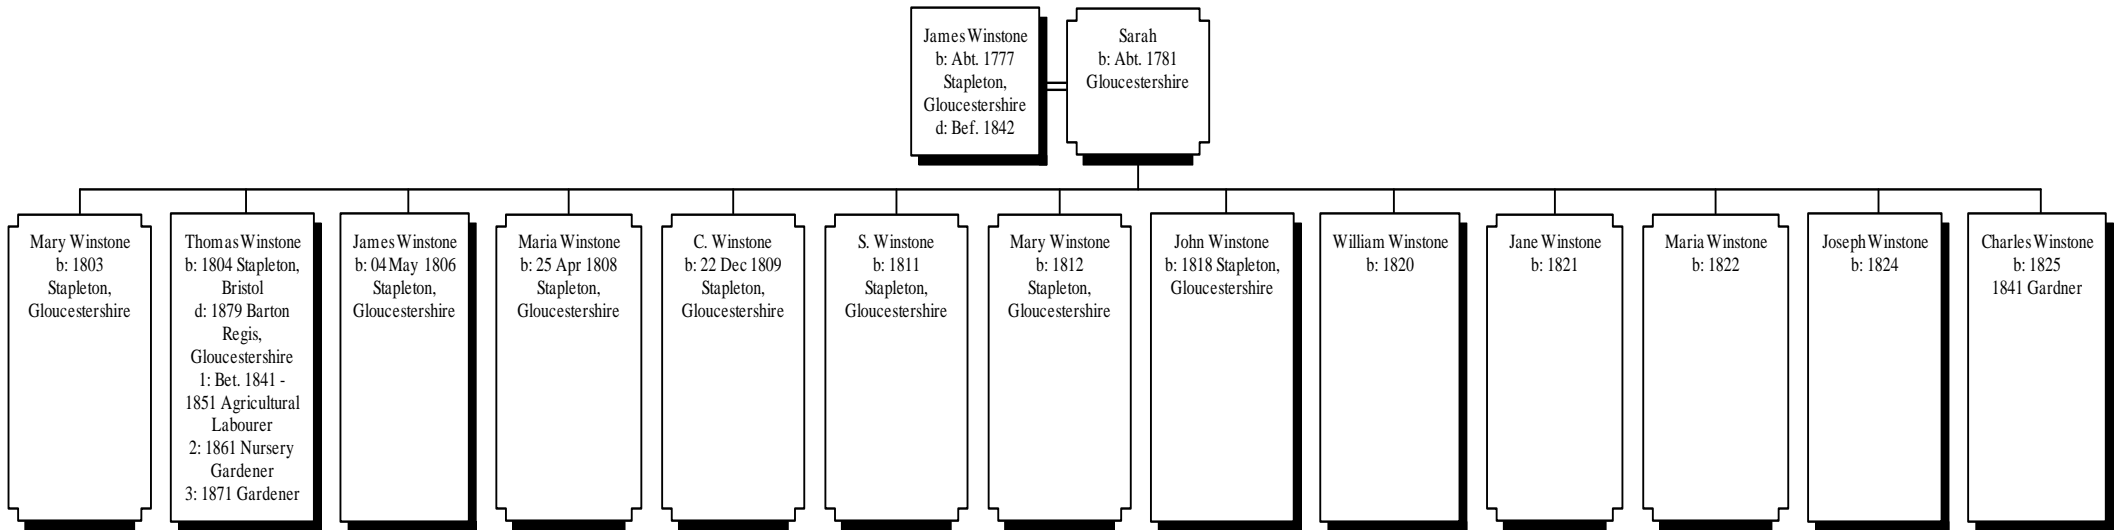

Just as work drew the family away from the village of Winstone, so it also took its toll on the Family in Fishponds, drawing some into the centre of Bristol, another branch to Wales, and Ray’s branch to London, both South and North of the Thames.
